EVERY STREET IN WILLIAMSBURG

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Sufferers Seek.

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills?

Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Williamsburg people recommend. Every street in Williamsburg has its cases.

Here's one Williamsburg man's experience.

Let Mr. G. A. Styrnborough, carpenter, of Richmond Avenue.

He says: "I had a bad case of kidney complaint that had run on until the symptoms were chronic. I tried a little of everything in the hope of getting relief, but without effect. Doan's Kidney Pills finally came to my attention and I got a box. I felt so much relieved that I discontinued taking them. I can say, however, that they acted in a satisfactory manner. I give them my praise."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

MR. HENPECK IS DISCOVERED

Passenger's Voluntary Tip Clears Up Mystery for Street Car Conductor.

A stout lady entered a well-filled street car with her diminutive husband. They sat down side by side and she promptly moved over on top of him to give room for another passenger. "Maria," came from somewhere underneath, "will you please pay the fare? I can't reach for my pocket."

As the conductor approached the following dialogue took place:

"Fares, please."

"Two," said Maria, handing over a dime.

"One?" he questioned as his eyes searched the seat.

"Two," disclaimingly.

"Madame, I can only accept fare for one. Your size has nothing to do with it."

"Sir; would you insult a lady?"

"Never, madame. But where's the passenger you wish to pay for?"

Maria gave over an inch or two and glared at the man in the uniform.

"She's sitting on him," a passenger across the aisle volunteered.

"It probably isn't the first time," mumbled the conductor as he gave the register a violent ring. Maria's husband came up suddenly for breath, but sank with the next lurch of the car.

PRISONER MADE $300 A DAY

Paris Banker Conducts Extensive Financial Transactions From His Cell.

The Paris police recently raided a financial establishment in the rue Lafitte and confiscated the contents of the safe as well as the books, thereby putting a stop to the lucrative source of revenue of a banker named Zucco, who has been in prison for several months for irregular financial transactions.

M. Zucco, although occupying a cell, first at the Sante and then at Fresnes, contrived to open another financial establishment in the same house as that occupied by his bank, which was closed by the police when he was arrested.

From his cell he directed a scheme for getting small investors to subscribe jointly for lottery bonds.

Business went well. The new establishment was soon employing ten clerks, and M. Zucco in his cell was making about $300 a day. But disappointed clients informed the police.—New York Tribune.

HABIT OF FROWNING.

"Do you frown unconsciously from habit or defective eyesight?" asked an elderly woman of a young girl the other day. Continuing:

"Do you realize that each frown lessens your chance of popularity—your chance for making friends? You may not be so cross as you look, but the world is not going to take the trouble to discover it."

"Did you ever stop to think that no one admires a frown, therefore not the features of a Venus and the coloring of a Henner can make up for the scowling lines between the eyes?"

"Do you know that the frowning habit will limit your chance of success as a worker? A smiling countenance and the good disposition that generally accompanies it count for more in the business world than the frowner will ever believe."

"Whatever causes those frowns, be it temper, envy, fretfulness or bad eyes, should be fought against. It will take patience and constant watchfulness, but it can be done."

SAFER AND SURE.

"I want you for my very own," said the rich old gentleman, when he had succeeded in getting the beautiful girl to listen to him.

"But how can I be your very own?"

"Why—why, you can marry me, can't you?"

"I suppose I could, but don't you think, if you really want me, it would be safer to adopt me?"—Judge's Library.

GETTING THE FACTS.

"Yes," said Broncho Bob, "Taran-tula Tim said as how he guessed he'd better leave Crimson Gulch; so he did."

"An affair of the heart?"

"You telephated it, friend."

"Wore his heart on his sleeve, eh?"

"Worse than that. He wore the nose of heart up his sleeve."

Ice Cream That Is Pure

You can be sure of the purity of the "The Velvet Kind" because—The State law demands labelling for other than pure ice cream.

it is as pure as the air of the green meadows where graze the cows from which our cream comes.

These cows are Government inspected. Their cream is tested in our laboratory for butter fat—for purity. We pasteurize it to further insure its purity.

This cream is frozen in a sanitary plant—white enameled inside—that is kept immaculately clean.

Human hands never touch it.

You need never have fear about the purity and wholesomeness of ice cream, if you choose The Velvet Kind.

Order it at the fountain when hot and thirsty.

Have it served on your table for dessert.

NOTE TO YOU WILLIAMSBURG, VA., July 11, 1912

One hundred cents make a dollar, but our choice perfumes are not sold at a dollar a scent—that wouldn't be sensible.

They are quite moderate in cost, and for a few trivial cents, you may secure many rare and delightful scents. One need not be without the most delicate odors, at the prices which prevail here.

Yours truly,

OPENS OFFICE FOR CUPID

Spokane, Me., Pastor Says He Will Not Marry Drunkards or Divorced Persons.

Spokane, Me.—The Rev. Dr. James W. Kramer, pastor of First Baptist church, has opened a business office in Spokane's banking district, where he will be on duty daily from 9:30 o'clock in the morning to 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Kramer has been installed as chief clerk and stenographer. Official announcement is made that "any one in the world but a drunkard or a divorced person will be married with a long or a short service."

Dr. Kramer made this statement: "I shall mix with men, know men, be one of them, but never compromise with any of them in any way. In undertaking the policy of the aggressive minister I shall extend a welcome to everybody in my office, and as I personally pay the rent I can have privacy when desired, a thing that was out of the question in a church."

CHINESE MARRIAGE.

Marriages in China are celebrated at the home of the bridegroom, not of the bride, says a writer in the May Wide World Magazine. Before quitting her own house the bride is arrayed in her best dress and jewels, her hair is elaborately arranged and she wears a large hat. A mantle is then thrown about her head and a red silk cloth is placed over her face. Her mother then puts her in a gilt sedan chair, used only for weddings, and locks her in, giving the key to one of the attendants, who delivers it to the bridegroom when the procession arrives at the latter's home. No priest or magistrate officiates at the marriage. The happy pair, the bride still veiled, enters the ancestral hall together and bow three times to the family tablets, afterward sitting down to a table on which are two cups of wine—an offering intended to propitiate the ancestors of the family. They next enter the reception chamber, where the husband removes the veil and mantle from his wife, seeing her face, perhaps, for the first time. The guests and friends then enter the room, gaze upon the blushing bride, and convey their felicitations to the happy pair. A wedding banquet is held in the evening, at which the bride, very tactfully, pays especial attention to her parents-in-law.
